Only 15 days in which to raise this amount of money is given and it must be done and the goods must be sold regardless of their cost or their values

For Fifteen Days This Mighty Battle

CITY COUNCIL IN REGULAR SESSION

Name Board of Health Members and Prepare for Additional Sanitary Precautions.

With a full board present at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday evening several matters of general public importance were disposed of. Probably the most important of these was the determination to take immediate steps for the improvement of the general sanitary conditions of the city. The recommendations made along this line by Trustee Sampson, chairman of the health and police committee, show that he has already given the subject careful investigation and is determined to omit no precaution for the protection of public health and the improvement of sanitary conditions. As a preliminary step Trustee Sampson urged the appointment of a Health Officer and Board of Health. At his suggestion Dr. J. L. Ross was named as health officer, and on motion of Trustee Hynding Drs. J. L. Ross, H. W. Taggart and A. M. Taylor and Trustee Sampson were named as a board of health, with the suggestion that they prepare an ordinance providing the necessary authority for their work. Trustee Sampson reported that he had discussed the matter with the physicians and that each had signified a readiness to render every possible assistance. Trustee Sampson also called attention to the need of a revision of the plumbing and building ordinances and he was requested to submit new ordinances to fit modern conditions.

A communication was presented calling the attention of the Council to the practice of boys and young men about town as well as members of the Stanford boat crew bathing in Redwood Creek without proper bathing suits and requesting on behalf of the owners of pleasure launches that a stop be put to the indecent annoyance. The Marshal was instructed to post notice calling attention to the law and if these were not heeded to make arrests.

A communication was presented from William Laswell, Martha Norman, Mrs. Elizabeth Winter and John Kerr protesting against the construction of the spur track on Chestnut street in any manner to interfere with their property. The protest was placed on file.

An invitation was presented from the Board of Trade requesting the attendance of the Trustees at the annual banquet of the Board of Trade to be held at the Bernasque Cafe next Tuesday evening. It goes without saying that the invitation was accepted by a unanimous vote.

Trustee Sampson of the police committee reported that the resignation of J. J. Rogers as night watchman had been presented to the committee and accepted and James McGlynn appointed to the place. The action of the committee was approved.

L. M. Fletcher, secretary of the Doak Sheet Steel Company of San Francisco, presented a sample of a corrugated Toncan metal culvert pipe, which he proposed to furnish at a price much below that charged for the cast iron. The Trustees were convinced that the new pipe would prove at least as durable as the cast iron and the contractors were authorized use it in the additional work in district 13.

The map of Mrs. Anna Schellen's subdivision of lots 29 and 31 of the Wooster Whitton & Montgomery tract was presented for final action. While the map was approved and Taft street accepted the action was taken with evident reluctance, the Trustees expressing very strong disapproval of the 25-foot lots. Trustee Hynding was especially strong in his condemnation of the small lots, which he contended were a menace to the substantial growth of the city, and to give emphasis to his disapproval he voted against the acceptance of the map.

The bond of Clerk G. C. Plump in the sum of $2,000, with the Aetna Indemnity Company as surety, was approved. Ordinance No. 86, the much delayed ordinance intended to limit the speed of railway trains, was introduced and given its first reading. The speed limit is fixed at 30 miles an hour between Brewster avenue and Spruce street.

Chairman Merrill stated that the Redwood City Women's Club desired that an ordinance be passed prohibiting expectoration on the sidewalks, which has become a nuisance, especially to women. The suggestion was referred to the committee on public health and morals.

After a lengthy discussion of conditions the definite route of the extension of Phelps street was decided upon and chairman Hynding of the street committee was authorized to have the map prepared. The street will be 70 feet wide and to secure this it will be necessary to take about 20 feet of the Culleen property on the north side of the alley.

Marshal Coleman reported that since his advent into office he had devoted a considerable portion of his time to an investigation of water meters and as a result of his inspection he submitted a list of 120 meters that were either not working at all or were evidently not doing their full duty to the city.

REMINISCENCES OF OUR PIONEER DAYS

Gleanings From the Records Left By Men Who Laid the Foundation of Our County.

Sometimes as we plod along through this weary world of business strife it is interesting and possibly amusing to harken back to the boyhood days of ourselves and friends. And when we are in this retrospective mood what is more interesting than reminders of some of our school days and the good old school exhibitions, when we got up and "spoke our little piece." Anent of this, here is an item from the columns of the Gazette of December 30th, 1871, that may remind some people in Redwood City of the old childhood days of themselves and friends: "Owing perhaps to the inclement weather of Friday, Mr. Nutting's school room was not so crowded with visitors as it might otherwise have been, but still a goodly number of parents and friends were present to witness the closing exercises. Among those who deserve special praise is Carroll Davis, who with Edward Fitzpatrick rendered "Lochiel" as a perfect feature. Clarence Merrill and D. Dent in "Stocks Up and Down" by the comical acting of both elicited rounds of laughter. Chase Littlejohn, as "The Demagogue" spoke loud and distinct. Miss Flora Littlejohn, upon the piano, more than equalled the expectation of her friends. Miss L. Hilton in the song "Aulien Aroon," executed well her part. Miss A. Underwood, Johanna McLellan, Andrew Walsh and Walter Knights, Robert Walsh and Walter Knights, Elsie Davis and Herbert Kirkpatrick creditably acquitted of forty exercises and was fully carried out to the letter by those participating.

Shortly after 6 o'clock on the evening of January 3d, 1872, the town of Halfmoon Bay was the scene of what was probably the most serious fire in its history, even to the present day. The fire started in a barber shop adjoining the postoffice and at the time did not appear to be a source of much danger. Although there was a rather lively blaze in the room, there was considerable help at hand, and to all appearances the fire was put out in a very few moments and all left the place assured that danger had passed. Results soon proved that this feeling of safety and confidence was misplaced. It appears for the purpose of deadening the sound the partition walls of the place had been stuffed with saw dust, and this fact nearly led to the complete destruction of the town. Evidently a few sparks were left smoldering in this saw dust, gradually creeping along until nearly daylight the next morning, when they suddenly burst into extensive flames. Almost instantly and before any effort could be made to stay the progress of the flames the saloon of M. E. Joyce, which adjoined the barber shop was enveloped. From this the fire spread to the big merchandise warehouse of Kelly and Mattingly in the rear, and to the Odd Fellows Hall. From these the fire spread to the building in which was located the main store and stock of Kelly and Mattingly, the Postoffice and the office of Wells Fargo's express. Fortunately for the town, just at this juncture when the danger of a general conflagration seemed most imminent, a heavy deluge of rain began to fall. With the coming of the rain, the wind which had been blowing strong and adding to the danger ceased, and the fire was gotten under control with but little further damage. As it was the loss ran into the thousands of dollars, but little of which was covered by insurance.

Early in the Spring of 1872 work was commenced on the building of the Baptist church in Redwood City. The lot upon which the building was located was donated for the purpose by Mrs. Horace Hawes, and was 50x100 feet in size. The new church was considered a substantial structure having a width of 32 feet, by a depth of 40 feet, and its cost was in the neighborhood of $2,500. The building was designed and the greater part of the work of construction was done by Rev. Augustus Kolner, who at the time was the pastor of the congregation. Mr. Kolner was said to have been an excellent workman as a carpenter and an architect of no small ability, having for a number of years followed these occupations before entering the ministry. At the time of the commencement of the building the congregation of the church numbered but 23.

CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

Wish Father to the Thought.

Our esteemed local Democratic contemporary following the lead of its brothers in the faith, is just now strenuously engaged in the task of creating an impression that there is dissension in the ranks of the Republican Party of San Mateo County. This appears to be the generally accepted course of the Democratic press throughout the State at this time. Hopelessly in the minority in almost every section, their only possible hope is in dissension in the ranks of their opponents. Practically without grounds upon which to base an argument with which to bolster up their waning cause, this seems to be the only method upon which they can base the slightest hopes of securing the much coveted official positions and their consequent emoluments—which is after all the only apparent end desired.

This final effort however, is certain to prove abortive in the future. Long ere this the members of the Republican Party have discovered the true import of this little scheme of their opponents, and when the time comes for the contest between the two parties at the polls they will be found unitedly battling for the success of the party which has been the leader in every movement for the upbuilding of this great commonwealth.

Very true, the situation in the Republican ranks differs from that of the affairs of the Democratic Party. With little or no hope of success for the Democratic ticket, there is but little scramble for party preference. There is no great desire for place on a ticket that stands practically no chance of receiving the approval of a majority of the voters, in fact it is frequently found necessary, as now appears to be the case in this county, to coax men to submit themselves as leaders of a forlorn hope.

With the Republicans the situation is altogether different. With every reason to expect success at the polls, there is naturally a contention for the coveted honors. The positions to be filled are admittedly desirable ones, and with many men of admitted ability and probity, in the ranks, it is but natural that there should be a contention, or rather emulation, for the opportunities to serve.

This contention, however, is far from the strife and dissension which our opponents would so gladly have people believe exists. After the question of who should lead has been settled within the Party a ticket will be presented worthy of the support of every good citizen, and will doubtless receive a united support.

A Wise Protection.

The statement that the authorities of this city have determined to enforce a curfew law will be received with approval by every person who has the welfare of our youth at heart. There is no reason why boys of tender years should be allowed to frequent the streets unattended after 8 o'clock in the evening, and many good reasons why they should not. For the good of society in general, parents who have not sufficient interest in the welfare of their children to keep them off the streets after night should be compelled to do so.

BIG VICTORY FOR REDWOOD

Local Team Show Columbia Park Boys New Tricks in Baseball.

The Columbia Park boys of San Francisco came, they saw, but unlike the Roman warriors, they were conquered. Such was the result of the baseball game Sunday. The local boys promised that they would give them the tassel of their life and they did. They gave them more than the Columbia boys were looking for. Having always been victorious, the visiting team necessarily felt their defeat keenly, but they took it like gentlemen. It was a great game, a game that will be remembered for many a day. Not often is a game contested as closely and fiercely as this one was concluded without any squabbles or strife. It is a great credit to the local team and also to the visiting team. Ten innings were played and the game resulted in a score of 2 to 3 in favor of the local team. Next Sunday the General Lawtons will come down from San Francisco to try conclusions with the home team.

REGULAR MEETING OF SUPERVISORS

County Board Holds Session and Disposes of Much Routine Business.

The board of supervisors held an important session last Monday and transacted considerable routine business.

The usual monthly reports of county officers were presented and filed.

The following liquor dealers whose applications were presented at the first meeting in April were granted licenses:

Fourth township—John A. Flink, Parallon.

The following named liquor dealers gave notice of intention to apply for a license a month hence:

First township—John A. Biggio & Son, Colma; G. B. Demartini, Colma; Corbett and Busk, San Bruno; George Smith, Vista Grande; Caleb Cookley, Colma.

Third township—Ravenswood Investment Company (Class C), Matthew Crow ranch.

Fourth township—Thos F. Quinlan, Halfmoon Bay; J. V. Azevedo, Halfmoon Bay.

A number of applications were received to do excavation in the third township and same were referred to McEvoy to pass upon.

This was done in accordance with an ordinance recently adopted by the board directing the supervisor to look into such matters.

J. J. Welch petitioned the board for a change of the location of his liquor license from the Gouzenes building to the Balcof building in North Millbrae.

Owing to the absence of Supervisor Casey the matter was deferred until the next meeting.

Thomas Brougham, an indigent person of the third township, was allowed aid in the sum of $8 per month from May first.

The communication announcing that a representative of the Southern Pacific Co. would attend the meeting and explain concerning the gates at San Bruno was ordered filed.

A communication was read from the State Board of Forestry recommending that the county make an appropriation for the services of a county fire warden. The communication was ordered filed.

A notification was received from the J. J. O'Brien Construction Company to the effect that the Court house building was completed and asking the board to accept the same.

The board agreed to hold a special meeting Wednesday to go through the building and determine as to its acceptance.

Accompanying the communication was a statement by Architect Glenn Allen, giving a detailed account of the several contracts on the building, of which the following is a synopsis:
